Quidam de Revel, Paris

In rue de Poitou in the Marais this appointment-only vintage shop sells prototype designs from Courrèges to Paco Rabanne.

I once picked up some Charles Jourdan eyewear - a rare find! 00 33 1 4271 3707

Lords of the Manor, Gloucestershire

This former rectory in Upper Slaughter, built in the 1600s, is the perfect weekend retreat. In summer you can sit on the manicured lawns by the lake, or by the log fire in winter in one of its many snugs or libraries. lordsofthemanor.com

Frick Collection, New York

An elegant museum housed in Henry Frick's neoclassical mansion just off Fifth Avenue. It holds original works by Turner and Constable, two of my favourite artists. The indoor garden with fountains is one of the most relaxing places in Manhattan. frick.org

Oliver's Fish & Chips, London NW3

Whenever I'm in Belsize Park I can't resist going for a quick bite at this friendly, relaxing restaurant. The grilled sea bass with home-made coleslaw, washed down with a bottle of organic pear cider, is a must.

Old Jaffa, Tel Aviv

I love the clash of Tel Aviv's modern city centre with its medieval port area, Old Jaffa. There's an eclectic mix of boutiques, restaurants and galleries, including Studio Handelman where I bought several original silk screen prints. studiohandelman.com

Longrain, Sydney

One of the best restaurants in Australia. In the chic neighbourhood of Surry Hills and with a sleek wooden interior, it serves the finest Australasian food. A perfect place to relax with friends.
